

Steve DT

presents his new erotic publication
'Four Dollar Pearl' - ebook series
Published February 2010

No. 1: Rapture: lost in embrace

Rapture is a photographic record of an adult party's masquerade ball which was held in a former palatial home. The women are beautiful and the men are attentive. It's not long before everyone forgets about the camera and passion rises to the fore.

ISBN: 978-0-9559652-5-8

22 pages, 20 b/w photographs

No.2: Dreams of Venus

Steve DT's thoughts are often filled with Dreams of Venus. From selected photo shoots to walk-ins, he continues his quest to capture the essence of eroticism. Here is a world where the female is the most wondrous of creations. The intimacy is revealed in the completed image, which is a delicate balance between aesthetics, artistry and desire.

ISBN: 978-0-9559652-6-5

22 pages, 18 b/w photographs

Both monographs are available as a pdf ebook from www.lulu.com/stevedt for the sum of $4.00 each.

The Four Dollar Pearl series was inspired by the pioneering independent publications that were active below the public surface of Victorian morality. Most notably The Pearl, a leading erotic magazine of its day, published in London in July 1897. During its brief existence of eighteen months, the magazine feasted on short stories, poetry and had serialised several novels, of which all were celebrations of sensual pleasures and the pursuit of lovemaking in all its myriad forms.
